MR. STEVENSON'S SPEECH.

Remarks in House Which Aroused Governor's Ire.
Columbia, March 5.—During the course of a half hour speech on the floor of the house this morning Representative W. W. Stevenson of Cheraw, took occasion to score the governor of South Carolina for the stand that he had taken in the executive meeting of the board of regents of the State Hospital for the Insane on December 12, 1913, when Dr. Eleonora B. Saunders, woman physician at the asylum was made to appear and answer certain charges and insinuations made by fellow physicians and others without the privilege of being represented by an attorney, of having a stenographer to take down the testimony or of having her father present at the meeting. "Star chamber proceedings such as this state has never witnessed or will ever witness again," was the way in which Mr. Stevenson characterized the executive meeting. Mr. Stevenson's speech was called forth by a resolution introduced by Mr. Kirby, of Spartanburg, providing for another asylum investigating committee to examine specifically into the matters touched upon in the governor's message, which caused the investigation, or for the same committee to render a supplemental report giving the desired information. Mr. Stevenson was a member of the committee and spoke in justification of the report already filed.

"The two main tasks with which the committee felt that it was confronted," said Mr. Stevenson, "was to give Dr. Saunders an opportunity to refute charges which had been made and which would damn her name if not answered, and to do whatever we could to improve the condition of the state's unfortunate in the asylum and from that purpose we would not let the political differences of two men swerve us."

The resolution by Mr. Kirby mentioned, among other things, on which the committee should have reported, the charge by Senator Tillman that Governor Blease's "underlings and satellites" had tried to manipulate the sale of the present asylum site. Mr. Stevenson read from the report of the board of regents recommending the sale of the property. "Senator Tillman did not say that those 'underlings and satellites' were members of the general assembly," he said, "and this report shows that somebody wanted to sell the site, which might be a basis for the charge made by the senator."

Mr. Stevenson said that the report of the committee had been framed with the view of leaving out as much as possible anything that would cause political strife, as members of the committee did not feel that any good could come from such a course. "The motion to exclude anything of such a nature was made by Mr. Hardin of Cherokee, who is certainly not inimical to the governor," said Mr. Stevenson, who stated, however, that Mr. Hardin did his own thinking and showed his statesmanship by moving to leave out of the report such objectionable features. "As to the charge made by Senator Tillman that the administration followers would try to oust Dr. Babcock," Mr. Stevenson said that the superintendent of the asylum had stated that he would resign his position. If Dr. Saunders was made the object of attack, and following this the board of regents passed a resolution to the effect that while Dr. Saunders remained, she was not to be called for, it would be very acceptable. There might be in this fact, said Mr. Stevenson, some basis for the charge that an effort would be made to oust Dr. Babcock.

As to the charge made by Senator Tillman's letter that "a effort would be made to smother Dr. Saunders," Mr. Stevenson read from the testimony a resolution originating with Governor Blease in the meeting of the board of regents, saying that it was for the best interest of the lady that the matter be hushed up, reference being to insinuations made against her character. Much of the transcribed notes of the show that throughout Governor Blease's meeting was heard by Mr. Stevenson to had made insinuations against the character of the lady which were calculated to smother her name. "Slipshod justice to a South Carolina woman demanded that she be given an opportunity to present her side in reply to her detractors," said Mr. Stevenson.

In conclusion, Mr. Stevenson stated that he did not think the committee should have returned a report which smacked of politics, for the reason that the injection of this feature on the floor of the house would have caused discussion and have resulted in harm to the asylum.

Mr. Moore of Abbeville and Mr. C. C. Wych of Spartanburg, took the position that the committee had not made a full investigation into the matters which they were appointed to examine and that a "supplemental report should be filed, setting directly the questions raised in the letter of Senator Tillman."

Mr. Hunter, secretary of the committee, made a short statement in justification of the action of the committee, and said that he was willing to leave the matter to the house to decide. Mr. Barwell thought the committee had served admirably and no further report or investigation was needed.

The Nicholson substitute commending the action of the investigating committee was finally passed.

WILL NOT BE SEPIGMENT.

Mayor Mitchell Will Not Enforce Prohibition.

New York, March 5.—Devotees of the tango and other forms of dancing who showed keen disappointment last night when the police closed several establishments on Broadway where dancing followed, tonight sippers, southerners and southerners when Mayor Mitchell announced that the order to close these places at 1 o'clock in the morning would not apply to them to close their bars. They had not been licensed by the Police Commissioner. Mayor Mitchell said that the order had not come from his own office and that in his opinion the closing of these places was the result of a misunderstanding of orders. He said that he would not continue to enforce the law and that he had no intention of carrying out the strictest measures of the law administration in regard to closing at 1 o'clock.

What

Who in the main whose lot is free.
The people gather in groups.
Whose ringing phrases lend the shout,
"Arise and turn the rescues out!"
The answer—do not hesitate,
You have it right—the candidate.
And who is he that every year
Will choose another name to cheer
And think the most any man will do,
Provided he's a figure new?
With confidence speak up again,
Correct—the fellow citizen.

Who smokes in splendid ease afar,
A big torpedoes shaped cigar
And says "I smoke my pipe as I please,
But in the meantime let 'em see
Of course you are not at a loss,
You know it all the time—the boss."

CONTINUE DEBT CONTROVERSY

Virginia and West Virginia Unable to Reach Agreement.

Washington, March 4th.—Flat refusal tonight by Virginia's representatives to accept a new proposition from West Virginia to settle the ancient public debt dispute between the two states for $2,227,155.25 or less than one-third of the amount fixed by the supreme court, with no interest, caused a joint meeting here of the state commissions.

The supreme court fixed $7,152,597 as the amount West Virginia should pay toward the public debt outstanding when Virginia split into two different states, leaving questions of interest and certain clerical errors to be adjudicated by the states themselves. No agreement could be reached and recently April 15th was set as the date of hearing Virginia's application for a final decree, fixing the amount of interest. Virginia claims that the interest totals about twelve million dollars.

Today the West Virginia commissioners, having asked for the joint meeting, decided that new evidence showed them that several millions of dollars worth of assets of the state at the time of the separation had not been listed in the evidence submitted. Assets considered, they estimated that West Virginia's share of the debt amounted to just $2,227,155.25, which she proposed to pay in full satisfaction of all claims.
